7. Proposals

6.1. Great Britain asked if athletes can be notified when negative Doping results are clear.
BB said it can be done.

6.2. BB explained that the Anti doping tests costs € 9.800 for 30 tests here in Germany. In the future the EMC wants to see Weightlifting clean, because less tests means less entry fees.

Lef Nikiforov (RUS) asked who decides which athlete will be tested at the championship?

BB explained: 1) the NADA of the host nation will be contacted, according to the entrees (fees). 2) a budget reveals the number of tests that can be carried out.

3) Athletes will be selected through a random system like lot nr., age session, world records, body weight cat..etc..

LF: Do we get to know the athlete names of all positive and negative results?

BB stated that the 'black list' of positive doping results with names have been withdrawn from the IWF Masters website, as it serves no purpose. No, the IWF Masters do not reveal any names of positive doping cases anymore. This was done by the previous IWF Masters Board. We are not here to punish anybody in public. Any positive doping case will be dealed administratively. The athlete is informed of his rights of appeal, what he can and cannot do and the suspension.

It is up to each and individual to understand the consequences of wrong doing in his sport.

10. European Masters Weightlifting Championships

10.1. 2012 Lankaran, Azerbaijan.

Bill Barton noted that unfortunately some people are speaking against the championship in Azerbaijan and Cyprus. This cannot be tolerate. People who cannot support a championship should stay away quietly, nobody has the right to speak negatively about a host nation just because it is further away or because a visa is needed to enter the country. Right now here in Germany we have a large number of athletes from Belarus, Azerbaijan, Russia, Ukraine etc.... they always come and never complain. Now is their turn to be respected and supported by all of us, so that we all benefit from a successful championship in a foreign place. The organization of the 2012 European Masters Championship in Azerbaijan is fully supported by its National Federation and its government. It will be of high standard. The championship will be held at the new Lankaran Sport complex where 800 spectators fit in. All accommodation are very close (walking distance) to the venue and the Caspian Sea. A shuttle bus from Baku to Lankaran (230 km) for a cost of 35 Euros will be provided There are also domestic flights available.. The dates are June 2nd - 9th 2012.

- Form to fill
